

More checks increased average error across the held-out settings

Prediction error across 2,000 simulated episodes per setting; lower values are better.

A. Matched setting and held-out average

B. At 50%, only random choice performed worse

Six hand-specified failure settings receive equal weight. Intervals hold calibration fixed. These results do not measure human learning.